Questions & Notes

- The Samaritans religious practices were a 'mixed bag' of things. Are believers today tempted to add other beliefs and practices to historical Christianity?
- As believers living far removed from the day of Simon the Sorcerer why should we be equipped to discern the spiritual realities that lie underneath signs and wonders? How equipped do you feel?
- What can we learn from Simon's practice to help us better discern whether signs and wonders are of God? What can we learn from Philip's practice?
